ECO TIPS: Seasonal Foods

Autumn brings warming, hearty foods into season – like squash, carrots, parsnips and pears.

Eating foods that are in season in the UK can really lower your carbon footprint, as it means they have been grown locally rather than flown in from warmer climates. You can make your dinner plate even more sustainable by batch cooking (and freezing) which makes best use of your oven or stove while it's on and stop you reaching for plastic-wrapped convenience foods!

Safeguarding Training Day

Not long now until the Midhurst Deanery Safeguarding Training Day on Friday 30th October at St Mary's Church, Easebourne. To book onto one of the training sessions contact Emma Glue, our Benefice Safeguarding Officer: 07923 345155 or safeguarding@thepriorychurches.co.uk
